

Product Security Advisory

August 1, 2024

JCI-PSA-2024-19
CVE-2024-32931
ICSA-24-214-06

Overview

Johnson Controls has confirmed a vulnerability impacting exacqVision Web Service.

Impact

Under certain circumstances the exacqVision Web Service can expose authentication token details within communications.

Affected Versions

- exacqVision Web Service all versions up to and including 24.03

Mitigation

- Update exacqVision Web Service to version 24.06

Initial Publication Date

August 1, 2024

Last Published Date

August 1, 2024

Resources

Cyber Solutions Website - <https://www.johnsoncontrols.com/cyber-solutions/security-advisories>

CVE-2024-32931 - NIST National Vulnerability Database \(NVD\) and CVE®

ICSA-24-214-06 - CISA ICS-CERT Advisories

In addition to the guidance provided in this advisory, the recommendation provided within Johnson Controls Hardening Guide should always be applied to minimize security risk.

Visit the Johnson Controls Trust Center Cybersecurity website to access the latest Hardening Guidelines and best practice in cybersecurity - <https://www.johnsoncontrols.com/trust-center/cybersecurity/resources>.

Trust Center - Cybersecurity